

Dear Friends & Family,

I'm happy to share with everyone that I'll be joining the Red's Gear team as a pro staff and writer. Red's is a St. Louis based online gear company specializing in outfitting the outdoorsman, hunter, fisherman, shooter, backpacker and fitness nut with the best gear around. They stock around 45,000 products. I dare you to find something they don't carry.

This relationship has been developing organically over the past few months because we both believe in genuine, honest content that motivates others to experience the outdoors and at the same time, doesn't beat people over the head with a high-pressured sales pitch.

Weekly I'll be posting a blog and/or video at <http://www.redsgear.com/gearup>. The first post is live at <http://www.redsgear.com/gearup/friendship-deer-hunting-defy-time-pics>. In a world that values page views, clicks and shares, I appreciate your continued readership and promotion. Strong traffic proves there's an appetite for authentic writing in the outdoor industry.

Please like Red's Gear on Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/RedsGearOutdoors?fref=ts> and follow on Twitter @redsgear96. Give 'em a shot at your business the next time you need to make an outdoor equipment purchase.

Opportunities in life come as a result of God's blessing, hustle and the support of friends and family. This relationship is an answered prayer and one I couldn't have experienced without you.

Thank you.

Tim
